This is a book to read when you need to remember what is possible, to trust in the process of life and of Spirit and to believe in a loving divinity. Pick up this book and feel the love and awakened energy. Enjoy every page. Let it open your heart, discovering the jewel that lives within.

– MEREDITH YOUNG-SOWERS,
The Stillpoint School of Integrative Life Healing and author of Spirit Heals

Saskia has written a remarkable book with more twists and turns than a Kasbah alley but the twists are good ones, and the turns make you wonder what lies around the bend. Here is a gem, of what quality, you decide but if exotic places, pleasing characters, and a mind crackling read is your cup of tea you may just find a diamond here.

– BURT GOLDMAN,
The American Monk

Saskia's angelic book presents a luminous encounter of radiant beauty, suspense, happiness and light. It is a captivating experience of compassion, oneness, healing and joy. Saskia, thank you for writing it. I love you and I love the readers reading it.

– OREST BEDRIJ,
Author of Celebrate Your Divinity: The Nature of God and the Theory of Everything

In her creation of "A Suitcase Full of Faith" Saskia provides us with beautiful proof that the material we are teaching works! Living in the Now, listening to and trusting the message of the heart, allowing your inner truth to shine... empower all as the creator of their lives. Saskia teaches to focus on what one believes is possible by simply inviting you along for the ride as she shares her life story. Simply amazing! We want more!

– JESHUA B. SWANSON,
Spiritual Channel and author of Mastering the Grand Illusions

I love your positive attitude and faith in the universe. Your book has helped me as I am going through a difficult divorce. My soul had been "yelling" at me for a long time to do this for my own well-being. Your book has been extremely helpful in my transition. Thank you for having the courage to write your story.

-FRAN

The honesty portrayed throughout this beautiful work is heavenly in itself. A fantastic roller coaster ride around the world, while, sitting in my chair at home. The seeds you have planted through sharing so much of yourself will grow, and grow. This World will be a better place for all that you do. Saskia Roell receives Donley's Five Star W.O.W (Words of Wisdom) Award.

–BRIAN J. DONLEY,
author of The Original Psychology of Success

Oh, Saskia, how poetically you take me through your many travels on life's highway...The way you write about your birthing experiences and the total love and joy you felt with the creation of life is so refreshing. I can't wait for your next book.

- YVONNE MARGARET,

Saskia holds a light for us all to listen to our own hearts song. The depth and sweetness of her soul are reflected on every page of this amazing and exciting book. I promise you, you will not only love it but you will not be able to put it down.

- AVIVA S. ENGEL,
Co-Founder and CEO of Dream Manifesto

As a women, as a daughter, as a mother , as a wife through your story you have opened my heart not to be afraid. I have begun to face my fears and I have to thank you for that. Thank you from one traveling companion to another.

- GINA,
(Massachusetts)

Hers is an inspiring story of what the spirit can accomplish. Saskia's frankness is refreshing and her insights provocative. The chapters will keep you laughing as well as spellbound. The one thread that is woven throughout all the anecdotes is her absolute faith that somehow the universe will take care of her and her family -- and it does.

- GAIL MCCARTHY,
The Gloucester Times, (Gloucester, Massachusetts)

This book spoke to me like no other. I felt like I was right there with you on your travels but yet reminding me of my own path of coming to my truth. I couldn't put your book down. I read it straight through. I cried I laughed I cheered for you. I found myself in such a parallel state with you. Thank you, thank you for this beautiful tale of how we all need to follow our truth! Bring us more soon!

- DAWN,
(Indiana)

I started your book last night. It's a page turner! I love it. You have a gift for story telling and the messages of trust, faith, hope, to follow your dreams and live life to the fullest are all right there in the beginning of your book/journey. I love your candidness and analogies. I really enjoyed your likening your adventure to going through the birth canal. Wow. That's powerful! I'm so happy that you wrote it; thank you from the bottom of my heart. I needed this. What a wonderful gift to the world!

- KRISSIE J. BURNHAN,
